Politicians Puzzled Over Democratic Contest for Nomination

By DAVID LAWRENCE Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924. WASHINGTON, May 3.—

The certainty that President Coolidge will be nominated on the Republican ticket has turned political discussion here almost entirely to the Democratic race, interest in which in the last few days has become intensified through the activities of those favoring Governor Al Smith of New York.

Republican, of Ohio, challenging the Democrats to nominating the Democrats to nominate Mc-Adoo and warning them that the campaign would turn on the fact that McAdoo was Doheny's lawver, has furnished a surprise. Hitherto, the Republicans have seemed to want McAdoo nominated, because they thought he was easiest to defeat. They did not interrogate him extensively when he was before a Senate investigating committee, as they hoped to do more interrogating if ing strength of McAdoo in several states has been puzzling to the professional politicians of both parties who have assumed that he was already eliminated because he served as a corporation lawyer and received large fees.

Smith Boom Serious But nobody here is assuming that the Democratic nomination is that the Democratic nomination is assured to any candidate, and the talk from New York state about of Los Angeles, is entering one of 1027 Glenwood Rd. Record Total of Water and Light Meters In City

With the installation of 105 water and 270 light meters during April, the total number of meters in service in Glendale at the present time is greater than ever before in the history of the city.

A total of 22,620 meters, 9807 water and 12,813 light, are now installed in Glendale homes, according to the records at the office of James F. McIntyre, commercial agent of the public service department.

"That does not look as if everybody was deserting Glendale and going back to their former homes in the east," he said. "The demand for service is constantly increasing. We notice very little fluctuation in the constant upward trend. While of course some months exceed others, as a whole the records of the department here show a steady, growth." normal

Casts Off Male Attire to Hear Call of 'Mother'

BERKELEY, May 3.—Because she wanted to hear her babies call her "mother" instead of "daddy" as they have known her for four years, Mrs. Edna Brittendall today cast off her male disguise after four years dur-ing which she supported by hard labor not only her two children but the family of a widowed neighbor.

The strange story began four years ago in Trinidad, Colo. The husband of Mrs. Thomas Foster died leaving her three small children. She turned to Mrs. Brittendall, who said she was desperate because of her husband's cruelty. They de-cided to flee, and with the five children, two of Mrs. Brittendall, they went to Wyoming.

There Mrs. Brittendall cropped her hair, donned overalls and became Ray Sargent and Mrs. Foster was known as Mrs. Sargent. Then they came to California and Sargent became an auto mechanic. But mother love finally caused her to drop the masculine role to-

Action Indicates Chief Executive to Oppose World War Bonus

WASHINGTON, May 3. -President Coolidge today vecoed the Bursum pension bill, providing increases in pensions for veterans of all wars except the world war. The president's refusal to sanction the Bursum bill was taken as an indication he would also veto the new soldiers' bonus for World War veterans, which will reach him shortly from Congress.

Huge Expenditure The Bursum bill contemplated an expenditure of approximately $400,000,000. A similar measure was vetoed two years ago by President Harding for the same reason which moved President Coolidge—that is, economy. "No condition exists," Mr. Coolidge declared, "which justifies the

ATWATER SCHOOL STAGES MAY DAY

Annual Fete and Bazaar Are Magnet for Hundreds of Pupils and Parents

The 635 pupils of the Atwater Park school, augmented by over 100 more under school age, accompanied by parents and friends not only made the May Day fete and bazaar an unqualified success, but as an annual event, it might be properly termed a carnival, as none of the elements which make up an affair of that kind were

ing and progressive community, and its annual observance has the loyal support of the entire community, as was evidenced on Friday, when teachers, pupils and Parent-Teacher association united in making the day one of con-tinued enjoyment and interest. Students in Parade

The floral parade in the morning, participated in by the student body, was most picturesque as it passed along the principal streets. The procession was led by Davinia Wood in Scotch costume, playing the bagpipes. A group of the "Foot Division" accompanied her, Uncle Sam and Columbia in the lead, with clowns, gypsies, troubadours, senoritas, Chinese dancing girls, colonial dames, and every conceivable character, historical and otherwise.

Flower-decked doll carriages, each propelled by a dainty little ' followed the foot division. The next division included express wagons, automobiles, scooters, bicycles and skates. The whole was a riot of color and pandemonium for noise.

The parade moved to Brand boulevard, then on Perlita, Ty-burn and back to the school. Admiring mammas marched near or, in automobiles, brought up the rear, in order to pick up the stragglers.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president of the Atwater Parent-Teacher association, was general chairman of the bazaar, and Miss Rosalind Gates, principal of Atwater school, assisted by the nineteen teachers of the school, arranged the program and sports.

May Day Program teachers, each grade prepared a number for the May Day program given in the afternoon. The program is a land of the following number for the follo given in the afternoon. The pro-gram included the following num-bers: School orchestra, led by Miss Audrey Clinton, music teacher of the school; the Queen's procession, Helen Fleischer, queen, preceded by flower girls and crown bearer from the kindergarten, the canopy over the head of the queen being supported by Flora Lee Watts, Marion Goldfisch, Marion Eisenhart and Ilo Kalk; Maypole dance by the girls of the sixth grade, ribbon dance, B-2 and A-2 grades; Swedish clap dance, by A13 grade; "I See You" dance, by

WHO WILL BE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE?

Calvin Coolidge will be the Republican party candidate for resident of the United States. There is no question about it. He has more than enough delegates already pledged to give him the nomination. California Republicans will vote for delegates next Tuesday and Coolidge leaders in this state are urging that California "remain in the Republican ranks and give endorsement to the president."

Who will the Democrats in national convention select to oppose Coolidge? That's the big question in Democratic ranks and, too, Republicans are interested. In discussing Democratic candidates The San Francisco Journal says:

It looks a little as if Senator Ralston might become the residuary legatee of the Smith candidacy for the Democratic nomination to the presidency. The occasion apparently is caused by the death of Charles F. Murphy, the head of Tammany, who stood godfather to this political infant. If the unexpected should happen, the case would resemble what is called "stepping into a dead man's shoes."

It is reported that Tom Taggart of Indiana, which is a doubtful if not pivotal state in the presidential elections, has promoted the Ralston candidacy from the peaceful shades in which it grew like a modest volet. Were the report to square with truth and with developments in the immediate future, it would show the desperation of the Democratic bosses of Chicago, Indiana and Philadelphia. They overlook the sense and the conscience of the national democracy. Brennan of Chicago, Guffey of Philadelphia, Murphy of New York and Taggart of Indiana, the four of whom, while Murphy lived, controlled millions of Democratic voters, have believed that together they could swing the presidential convention of their party to Governor Smith of New York. But Mr. Murphy's death eliminates the strongest factor from the Smith candidacy. Taggart naturally cannot take stock in this underwriting with such heartiness as Mr. Murphy did. Taggart is not playing politics for the benefit of Tammany and its beneficiary He is in the game for his own benefit. "A favorite son," an Indianian like himself, forms the best card with which to

Yet this card is none too strong. Ralston's age is a heavy handi-"Who's Who" gives the date of his birth as December 1, 1857 If nominated and elected, he would be a man of 67 when he took the tremendous burden of the presidency. If he survived through the term he would be over 71. Harrison, in 1841, was killed by the presidency at 68; Taylor, in 1850, at 66; Harding, in 1923, at 58. Since Harding's death can a party afford to take chances with a nominee of Ralston's age? It seems improbable that the country would make so old a man President.

If Ralston were 52 he probably would be available as a potential nominee, for he is able and popular and hails from a state that is nominee, for he is able and popular and hairs from a second and almost indispensable for his party's success in the presidential elections. Mr. Murphy's disappearance improves the chance of John W. Davis of West Virginia as a candidate for the nomination. It is not impossible that Taggart, Guffey and Brennan may try to save the presidential nomination for Smith by throwing the vice presidential nomination to Ralston

All of which The Glendale Evening News submits, is interesting to members of all political parties. However, what about William Gibbs McAdoo? And how about James M. Cox? The Democrats of California hope to endorse McAdoo next Tuesday. They want to offset the defeat Cox gave McAdoo in Ohio the other day. When Cox easily defeated McAdoo in Ohio, political leaders came to the conclusion that Cox, by winning, must be reckoned with in the game to be played at Madison Square Garden next June. Prominent Democrats admit Cox is going to make his influence felt in the councils at New York. Holding the Ohio delegation, Cox must be consulted before any candidate can secure the necessary twothirds to nominate.

Be that as it may, Republicans hope to carry California for Coolidge next Tuesday—not that he requires the delegates to nominate but, they point out, he does deserve the state's unqualified endorsement. And, they say, California should give the Coolidge ticket in this state a big majority in order that California may stand well in the councils of the party. As the Coolidge headquarters says:

President Coolidge has measured up to the requirements of this high office. He is proving that he is one of the really great presidents the country has had-fair, courageous, positive, straightforward, he has met every issue in a masterly manner, and endeared himself to the American people regardless of political party lines. With this situation clearly before us, what is to be the position of, California

Shall California be represented by a delegation hostile to President Coolidge, which will sit there, sullen, while the delegates from the other states roll up the Coolidge majority and name the Republican party's standard-bearer? Do the Republicans of California want to president, not counted as one of the original Coolidge states? Do California Republicans wish their state to be regarded by the remainder of the country as hostile, or at best, grudgingly loyal, to the Republican party's presidential nominee?

The leasing of the naval oil reserves under Sec-The leasing of the naval of reserves under sec-retaries Fall and Denby has been widely de-nounced. To justify this leasing the claim has been made that these secretaries simply continued the policy inaugurated by Secretary of the Interior Payne of the Wilson administration. This is entirely unjustified.

Here are the facts: of government oil lands on a royalty basis, the only law by which the public could take out oil was the old Placer Mining Law, the same law which applied to gold or silver. If the claimant followed up his claim with operations and brought in a producing well, he became the owner and entitled to a patent, and the Government received

The Leasing Act changed this policy; authorized the Secretary of the Interior to issue rules fixing the royalty to be paid at not less than 121/2 per cent of the oil taken out, and to lease the public the lands. Thus the Government received a substantial royalty, and retained ownership of the

Before this act went into effect, many people had claimed title to parts of the lands, both in and outside of the Naval Reserves. The Government had established a policy of setting aside oil lands for the use of the Navy for a future emergency, it being well known that our supply of

In their anxiety to accuse and defend, it should commercial oil would in a few years be exhausted. Naval Reserve No. 1, the Elk Hills, was created in September, 1912.

Naval Reserve No. 2, also in California, was created Dec. 13, 1912.
Naval Reserve No. 3, Teapot Dome in Wyoming, was created April 30, 1915.

Some claims under the old Placer Law had been filed on lands in these Naval Reserves before the reserves were created.

Payne became Secretary on March 15, 1920. The Leasing Law passed Feb. 25, 1920, made it Before the passage by Congress February 25, his duty to administer that law,—that is, to issue 1920, of the Leasing Act, authorizing the leasing regulations for prospecting and leasing and fixing the royalty to be paid on lands outside of the Naval Reserve. It was the policy of Congress that lands outside of the Reserve should be leased, but the Naval Reserves should not be leased unless a claimant under the old law came strictly under the terms of the Leasing Law

Everyone ought to know what was fully brought out by the Senate Committee,-that Secretary Payne made no secret leases, his door was wide open, everything was public, the Leasing Law was strictly followed and the policy of the Government upheld. With the approval and support of President Wilson and Secretary of the Navy Daniels, the Naval Reserves were fully protected, and if that policy had continued they would now be safe and intact. The United States Government has employed Messrs. Pomerene, Roberts and Knight as special counsel to undo the work of Secretaries Fall and Denby, and reestablish conditions as they were left by Secretary Payne. TRYING TO CAST OUT THE MOTE IN OUR BROTHER'S EYE WHILE WE HAVE A BEAM IN OUR OWN Writing to The Glendale Evening News to give his views regarding bobbed hair, ex-professor says, "I have deviated from the is one of the greatest failings of Human Nature, one of the characteristics that makes him seem weak and childlike. Like sulking when we are beaten in a fair fight this trait of aing the mistakes of others when we are guilty of much greater faults is the out-growth of egotism. It is the re-sult of our self-esteem, our conceit, our vanity, the worship of our own ego. The Bible calls this trait of beholding the mote in our brother's eye while considering not the beam in our own hypocrisy. It is true we assume a false appearance of virtue when we appear so anxious to help others correct their faults while not being free from error ourselves.

Childlike as is this characteristic of Human Nature it is wellnigh universal. While we all know people who seem perfect, who appear to have no faults themselves and who seem to see only the good in others, yet we are told that "all have sinned" and there are few of us sinners who do not see the mistakes of others more clearly than our own and who are not more concerned to point out others' faults than we are to correct our own wrong-

THE STORY

DR. RALPH LESLIE, just graduated from medical college, and just over an attack of typhoid fever, ships on the yacht Ella as a sort of deck steward. He is penniless and thinks this will be a good opportunity to recuperate. Marshall Turner is the owner. His wife, her sister Elsa, a divorcee named Mrs. Johns, and a man named Vall are the passengers. Turner is dissipated and evidently jealous of his wife and Vail. There is a crew of fourteen, including the stewardess, a maid named Karen Hansen, the cook and Williams, the butler. Charlie Jones, a German sailor with a bent for religion, is friendly to Leslie. Captain Richardson and Turner have an argument over running the ship. Turner, drunk, appoints Singleton captain. Richardson knocks Singleton down, and threatens to put says, "I have deviated from the original subject to show how prone we are to criticize others when we are guilty of greater faults or mistakes." That indeed is one of the greatest fellings of the specific or mistakes." That indeed in. He unscrews the lock, hears a woman's screen when the boat. Mrs. Johns asks Leslie to sleep near the passengers' statercoms, in a pantry, as she is afraid of trouble. One night Schwartz, the second mate, disappears overboard, though nobody sees him jump. On the night of August 12 Leslie wakes in the pantry to find himself locked in. He unscrews the lock, hears a woman's screen room for help-and finds Vail dead, murdered with an axe. He goes to tell the captain, and finds him dead, killed in the same way. Singleton collapses, and is too stupefied to take command. When Leslie goes to call Karen, the maid, to help the ladies, he finds that she, too, has been murdered. Burns, one of the crew, who has been fond of her, is especially upset. Mrs. Sloane, the stewardess, is in a state of collapse. The men put Leslie in charge, and they decide to head back to port. The ax is found where it was flung in the stewardess's berth. She says that Karen had been roused by a bell in the night, she thought Mrs. Turner's, but Mrs. Turner says she did not ring. Karen told the stewardess she thought Turner, who had annoyed her, was outside the door. She opened the door, screamed and fell dead. Mrs. Sloane said she saw a figure in white in the door throw the ax toward her. The crew imprisons Singleton. Leslie and Burns share responsibility for keeping up discipline. They lock the ax in the captain's cabin and Leslie takes the key. The other key, the one in the pantry, has not been found. "Find that and you will find the man who locked you in," says Elsa. They put the bodies in a lifeboat. Leslie and Elsa find that the bell that called Karen registered Vail's room. Leslie sees Elsa pick up a key in Turner's room. She drops it in embarrassment.

Construction on Roads All Over Country Starts on Immense Scale

By J. C. ROYLE By Special Leased Wire to The Glen-dale Evening News. Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The greatest annual period of highway construction this country has ever known really is now under way. May I marked the opening of work in a score of states both on the country oads and on city streets.

Highway construction in 1924 probably will get into the billion-dollar class of industries. The amazing activity of this road construction is giving work directly to hundreds of thousands of men and its effect is felt by the entire business world as well as those engaged in the equipment and supply business.

All Records Beaten The Portland Cement association reports that the awards for concrete highway construction in the first part of this year sur-passed all previous records. Ap-proximately 12,000,000 square yards, or 1,200 miles, of concrete highway 18 feet wide were placed under contract during the first three months of the year. In addition, over 425 miles of city streets have been ordered paved with concrete. These figures do not include the 2,500 miles of contracts which were carried over from 1923 when cold weather put a stop on outdoor work. Thousands of miles of gravel highways and roads formed of other materials than concrete are being built today throughout the tions and with cement company Henry P. Barbour at Pasadena.

Urges Realtors To Join Trainload Of Delegates

In the current issue of California Real Estate, President Henry P. Barbour of the State Association, cordially invites all Realtors to join the All-California train to Washington, May 28.

"I want to head a large California delegation to the national real estate convention June 3-6," President Barbour declared in his monthly letter to the Real-tors, "A representative as-semblage of Californians whom I shall be proud to in-troduce to my good friend now sitting in the president's chair-Calvin Coolidgepresident of the United

The special train, according to announcement from the California Real Estate Association head offices, will leave Los Angeles and San Francisco via the Union Pacific on May 28 and will stop over at Salt Lake City and Chicago, and other points arriving at Washington at least 24 hours prior to the opening of the convention.

Large delegations are being formed of Realtors from many parts of the state. President Harry B. Allen will head a large San Francisco of touring Realtors, and President Willard W. White and Chairman Fred E. Reed of the Central Committee on special train will head the Oakland delegation which includes the Glee Club made up of 12 Realtors. The San Francisco Real Estate Board will also have its glee club and orchestra. From Los Angeles will come a group of 35 realtors and their wives headed by President W. L. Brent, State Vice President O. A. Vickrey, and including former National President William May Garland and former National Director W. I. Hollingsworth.

C. C. Tatum who is Southern Chairman for the train will be a member of the special train which on arriving at Ogden will consist of both northern and southern California delegations of at least 100, and will be joined by the Northwest Real Estate Association division headed by President F. S. Barrett of Spokane and Secretary T. W. Zimmerman of Portland, Oregon. National Vice President Tatum will represent the Great Southwest jurisdiction.

Besides the three great boards of California, the State Association contingent will include 50 Realtors from the smaller boards.

Many Street Improvement -Projects Are Under Way

There are no less than 122 separate and distinct street improvement projects ordered or under way in the city of Glendale at the present time, according to the monthly report of Ben S. Dupuy, city engineer, for April, made public today.

As several of the proceedings are listed under one street but in reality comprises a large district, the magnitude of the task undertaken by the employes of his office and the progressive spirit dis-played by the citizens in asking for these improvements is readily apparent.

The work is not confined to any one section of the city. but is general in its scope. It includes the widening and paving of such important thoroughfares as Colorado street and Central avenue to the laying of water pipe on some of the obscure streets of the municipality.

The report is a very lengthy one and covers typewritten pages of legal paper. Among the larger projects covered are all the alleys in the business district, Verdugo Woodlands, and Central avenue,

Plans for the improvement of Central avenue are being prepared at the present time, and are not as yet completed. The work contemplated, as petitioned for by the residents on that street, ask for fiveinch paving for the street with a width of sixty-eight feet between curbs, water pipe, sewer and ornamental lights.

The original contract of 180 days awarded to Charles Thompson and the Houser-Packard Company for the work on Colorado street has been extended for 120 days. and expires August 7, 1924.

Extensive improvements are planned in the Verdugo Woodlands, under a resolution of intention adopted by the council on April 17.

It is anticipated that work will soon start on the paving of Sycamore Canyon road from Sinclair avenue at Acacia avenue, as per the contract dated January 19, 1924.

Building With Plans and Specifications Should Be the Home Builders' Motto.

After the completion of a home should come the silver lining from behind the cloud, or the joy and satisfaction of a properly designed, constructed, finished building which is built with Bentley Quality Lumber.

was created was the protection through that department of the settler who desired to locate upon any one of the many projects located in this state that are being offered to the public.

Authorizes Probe The real estate license law authorizes the commissioner to make an investigation either upon request or upon his own initiative of any project located within the confines of the state which is being offered to prospective pur-chasers located in this state, or in any other state. The scope of this investigation is such that the information gathered is of such a character that when once in the hands of a prospective settler it will be of assistance to him in determining whether or not such a project is adapted to the pur-poses for which he is purchas-

The law gives the commissioner the authority to place his stamp of approval upon any projects that he investigates; and gives the promoter or the owner the right to use the stamp of approval in the advertising matter used in the selling of the land. Such approval is not given to any project unless the real estate commissioner is convinced that natural and soil conditions are such that the land is adapted to the growing of the crops for which purpose the land is sold.

SCIOTS' MUSICAL COMEDY ENDS IN BLAZE OF GLORY

Cast of 'Say Listen' Presents Brilliant Performance On Second Night

Last night marked the second and final presentation of the three-act comedy, "Say, Listen," given by the Sciots' band in the auditorium of the Broadway High school and sponsored by the Glendale Pyramid of Sciots and the Tuesday Afternoon cl

The costumes of the chorus girls and those taking the principal roles were elaborate crea tions. Miss Flora Kilpatrick, who took the leading feminine role wore exquisite Paris creations The costumes of the chorus girls were all designed by Miss Kilpatrick.

Miss Flora Kilpatrick, talented Glendale musician, whose voice is well known to local music lovers, is a pupil of the late Francis A. Grant, and has recently returned from a concert tour in the eastern states after finishing two years' work as a soloist in a New York church. She demonstrated her ability at both the performances as a versatile vocalist, actress and author.

Players Improve

Those who had seen the performance the night before were unanimous in their decision that last night's offering eclipsed it. Everything ran off much more smoothly, the lines seemed to slip out with more ease, and, in fact, here was vitality to the entire erformance that Thursday night's had not quite attained.

Almost all of those in the cast were professional people, either of Los Angeles or Glendale. The choruses were made up from the best dancers and singers of Glendale and their peppy songs and clever dance steps were a particularly enjoyable part of the pro-

The gowns worn by those in the last scene were furnished by C. J. Hatz of Webb's department store and Hatz' Women's Shop.

Artistic Dance

An especially enjoyable feature of the last act was the dance given by little Mary Louise Kerr, who danced in an artistic manner a colonial dance. Her costume was a rich creation fashioned out of dreamily as he hopped on with Uncle Butter after coming out of the drug store, "everything has some use in this world if we could only find it out."

Just then, as they passed the house where Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, lived she tossed out an old empty basket which hit Uncle Wiggily on his pink, twinkling fice of city manager of the city of Glendale and providing for the

"Oh, Mr. Longears! I beg your pardon!" grunted the lady pig. "Don't mention it—you didn't mean to do it, I'm sure," spoke the bunny, wiping the tears out of his eyes, for when your nose is hit tears often come. 'There - I suppose you'll say there was some good in being hit with that old basket!" cried Uncle Butter, for Mrs. Twistytail had thrown out the basket as it was empty and of no further use to

"Certainly there is some good in it," said Uncle Wiggily, picking it up and trying hard to thnk of what he mght say. And just as Uncle Butter was laughing the bunny uncle said: "I shall fill this basket with May flowers and take them to Nurse Jane. She will smell them and she will feel happy. Thus good may come from even an old basket that hit me on the nose.'

"You do think of the funniest things," he bleated.

"I will show you how good can even come out of an old basket," spoke the bunny.

He hopped along until he and Uncle Butter reached a meadow in which grew some buttercups Gathering a bunch of these yellow blossoms, Uncle Wiggily placed them in the basket. It hardly looked broken at all, now. Going on a little farther the two friends reached a field of white daisies. 'These will go well with the buttercups," said Uncle Wiggily, and he picked a bunch which he put in the old basket. "It is beginning to look quite like a May basket," bleated Uncle

"And over there I see some red clover blossoms. Take some of those, Uncle Wiggily!" "I shall," answered the bunny rabbit, so, with the help of the goat, he put the clover blossoms with the daisies and buttercups. By this time you could not see irs. Twistytail's old broken basket for the flowers that were in it. Uncle Wiggily was just going to hop along with it to Nurse Jane when, all of a sudden, out from a hollow stump popped the Bushy Bear.

"Hoot! Hoot!" howled the Bear. "I'm going to take you off to my den, Uncle Wiggily!" And he was just going to do that when, all of a sudden, out of the clover blossoms flew a lot of hard stinging bumble bees. The bees, who had been gathering honey from the flowers, stung the Bear on his soft and tender nose, making him cry "Ouch! Wow! "Woochie!" And away he ran.

"There you are—see, good came out of the old basket!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "If Mrs. Twistytail hadn't thrown it at me the

Beauty Chats By EDNA KENT FORBES

AMUSING ODDITIES Do you know that by the time you are 50 years old you will have grown at least 27 yards of finger nails Some Swiss scientist has dug out this interesting, if not specially useful piece of information, by measuring the growth of finger nails over certain definite periods of time. He found also that children's finger nails grow faster than those of grown-ups, that the thumb nail grows faster than the nail on the little finger, and (this was known before) that nails frequently immersed in water grow faster than nails on hands kept very dry. Twentyseven yards of finger nails seems an awful lot when one thinks of them being filed away in minute fractions by the periodical mani-

Here's another amusing fact that won't do you much good. This time it comes out of Germany. If you are blonde with an average head of hair, the hairs strung out end to end would cover over 90 miles. But if you would brunette your hair so spread out would cover only 46 miles. So at least it is in Germany, and the reason is that blondes have finer hair and more actual hairs than brunettes. Coarse hair is almost

UP SERIES, HI KRAUSE AT WILL

Tiger Hurler Pitched Air-Tight Ball for Five Innings, Blew Up

By R. C. FRANKLIN
For the Southland News Service. LOS ANGELES, May 3 .- Harry Krause pitched shutout ball for five and one-third innings yesterafternoon at Washington park, and, just when it looked as though Oakland would breeze through the fourth game in easy fashion, a pinch hitter spoiled things by bouncing one into left field. The woe had only started for the ancient Harry in that frame, and before the batting riot was quelled three men had crossed the rubber and Krause was derricked a few minutes later when he exhibited quite a bit of wildness. Oakland won the ball game however, 7 to 4, and evened the series with the Tigers at two all.

Krause's shutout was spoiled by none other than Pete Schneider who homed after Deal and R. Murphy, who batted as pinch hitters, had singled to start the sixth. Deal, hitting for Sellers, singled to left and was advanced to third by Murphy's smash to center. The two scored on Schneider's fourbase clout, which went over the wall in center for a healthy hit. One run after this was all the Tigers could score, although they had a mighty good chance in the eighth, when Krause left the

Agreement Ready for Fighters to Sign

By DAVIS J. WALSH For International News Service. NEW YORK, May 3. - Tex Rickard, who stunned the pugilistic world by announcing that Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills will meet in Jersey City September 6, with the world's heavy-weight title at stake, drew up articles of agreement yesterday for the big extravaganza. Wills is said to have accepted Rickard's terms, and is ready to say it on the dotted line. A duplicate contract will be mailed to Dempsey in Los Angeles, and the interval before its arrival there will be utilized by Rickard in an exchange of long distance telephone his position in the Exchange Clubcalls with Jack Kearns, Dempsey's man of business.

According to a statement made by Rickard today, the champion virtually agreed to his terms the last time he was in New York and little remains beyond the formal signing of the articles.
